Drew University - CSCI 260 - Fall 2024
Linux Commands Sheet

You can practice you Linux skills here: cocalc.com.

Andy Siyuan Feng
11/01/2024

1. pwd (Print working directory.)
2. ls [options] [dir.] (Listing in dir. with options.)
3. ls -l [dir.] (Long listing; i.e., listing with details.)
4. cd [dir.] (Access dir.)
5. mkdir [options] <dir.> (Make new dir. with options.)
6. mkdir -p <dir.> (Make dir. with parents if needed.)
7. rmdir <dir.> (Remove dir. if empty.)
8. cp [options] <[source dir.] source> <[dest. dir.] dest.>] (Copy a source [dir.]/file to a destination [dir.]/file.)
9. cp -r <[source dir.] source> <[dest. dir.] dest.>] (Copy source to destination recursively if source not empty.)
10. mv [options] <[source dir./]source> <[dest. dir./] dest.>] (Move a source [dir.]/file to a [dir.]/file.)
11. *rm [options] file (Remove a file.)
12. rm -r <dir. or file> (Remove a file or a dir. even when not empty.)
13. grep [options] RegExp. file (Global search of Regular Expressions in a file.)
14. sudo command (Super User DO.)
15. touch [options] <file> (Create an empty text file and stay in current screen.)
16. nano [file] (Create an empty text file and enter text editor screen.)
17. cat <file> (Display file content. Used for concatenation.)
18. echo [options] ["string"] (Echoes a string to the command line.)
19. Re-directing >: command > file (Re-direct output to file.)
20. Appending >>: command >> file (Append output to file.)
21. Piping: |: command 1 | command 2 | ... (Feed the output as the input of the next command.)
22. javac <java file> (Compile a Java source file.)
23. java <class file> (Run a Java class file.)
24. gcc [options] <C file> (Compile a C source file.)
25. ./<executable file>: (Executing an executable file.)